Empowerfter

WOMEN IN LAW ENFORCMENT

FEATURING

Special Agent Marnie Musgrave

Work-Life Balance and Family Responsibilities

The difficulties and different responsibilities it brings to both roles, motherhood and a career in law enforcement.

Lieutenant Shannah Newman

Surviving a Law Enforcement Officer's Career Breakout discussion on the challenges women face and how they overcome these challenges.

Officer Jennifer Samples

Continue Your Story;

A dual-sided look at supporting someone battling PTSD and Trauma as a first responder and as the spouse of a first responder.

Retired Agent Ashley Ferris

A Fighting Chance

identify and combat signs of depression while developing resiliency through a focus on your greater purpose

Officer Katie SIzemore

Let's talk Faith, Family, and Fitness.

Ready to become the ultimate version of yourself? Dive deeper into your spirituality, make family time fabulous, and exercise like your life depends on it - the result? Being an amazing gift to those around you!

DECEMBER 11-13 BLEDSOE ST. GALLATIN, TN 37066 $100

Register: Training@gallatinpd.org

FEATURING

Officer Krystal Gibson

Breaking Barriers by Shattering Status Quo: Redefining Sisterhood Though a badge may weigh just two to four ounces—a minuscule load to bear—those who wear it know the true burden is far heavier.

Chief Deb Faulkner

My journey on the thin blue line:

The story of women in American law enforcement parallels the narrative of women in the general workforce.

Commander Tiffany Gibson

Never Stop Training:

Always remember "never stop training," in your career and life. Never stop training, never stop learning, never stop growing.

Retired Officer Michelle Mehr

Officer Survival:

The story of a traffic stop that changed the course of a career.

AND MORE...

DECEMBER

2024

575 E. Cost
BLEDSOE ST.
GALLATIN, TN $100 575 E.

37066

Register: Training@gallatinpd.org